DODWORTH'S DANCING ACADEMIES

A. DODWORTH'S DANCING ACADEMIES,

No. 197 MONTAGEE PLACE, BROOKLYN.

Classes will commence First Week in October, or immediately after Mr. Dodworth's return from Europe.

Mr. DODWORTH would take occasion to say that he has icog feit the necessity of introducing a system of instruction for the use of the younger pupils by which the exercise of Dancing would be of more benefit physically, and more raseful in the everlopment of graceful inversion, the use of the younger pupils by which the exercise of Dancing would be of more benefit physically, and more raseful in the everlopment of graceful inversion, than it has been of late years. The facility with which the Polka and similar dances of the present time are sequired has induced many to neglect those exercises that were formerly indispensable. To that neglect, as one of the causes, may be attributed the appearance of so many round-thouldered young misses in the present spectra for many round-thouldered young misses in the present spectra for many many misses that present deak without intermediate exercise, until the growing frame armore the position in which it has so long been restrained; they are then sent to a teacher of dancing, with the expectation that by leavning the Polka, Schottlach and a few other dances all this would be remedied, and they would at once become graceful warmen. Surely these things should be better understood. Were children sent to dancing early in life, at intervals during their recessary studies, and the teacher allowed to exercise them in such a manner and in sunk dances, in addition to the fashionable once any studies, and the teacher allowed to exercise them in such a manner and in sunk dances, in addition to the fashionable once and there are the sunce thing would be gained consistent with their receiver, and ourself any one of the proper sunce the sundances of similar necturess. The evedect successes of this course in its effect upon the pulls encouraged him to give more attention to Dancing as connected with Calestinesies; and d
